

DISCOVERY HOMEWORK

Kenya

This term in geography we are learning about Kenya. We are learning where Kenya is and what the Kenyan climate is like. We are learning about the similarities and differences between going to school in Kenya and going to school in England. We are also learning about Kenyan artists and some of the animals that live in Kenya including the “Big Five”.

Due date: Wednesday 1st February (this homework is optional but if your child would like to do this, it should be bought in on this date and not before please).

Suggested activities:

- Find out some interesting facts about African animals.
- Show where Kenya and England are on a map.
- Find out how you could travel to Kenya and how long it would take.
- Find out about some famous people from Kenya.
- Create a piece of work using what you have been learning in school.

You could create a poster, draw or paint a picture - whatever you like.

Please remember:

- ★ Your child MAY choose to do one of the suggested activities or they MAY want to do something else that links to the topic.
- ★ It could be some written work, some art or DT, some music - anything goes really, as long as it links to the theme. It may be something new that they are learning about their topic or it may help to reinforce something that they have learned in class.
- ★ This work does NOT go in homework books - these books are for the practice of basic skills.
- ★ The topic may have finished by the time the due date comes around - THIS DOES NOT MATTER - anything that they do at home will help to reinforce skills, develop their knowledge and hopefully they will enjoy doing it too!
- ★ The homework may be completed over time - ie. a little and often approach or your child may prefer to do something in one or two sittings - either way, it should not be handed in until the date at the top of this page.
