Dear Parents and Carers,

We are very proud to share with you exciting information about Inclusion and Wellbeing at Biggin Hill Primary School!

In response to the survey sent in the summer term of 2020, Mrs Sargeant, Mrs Helps and I have been working behind the scenes to implement some of the suggestions put forward by our school community and making improvements to our existing processes.

Our website has undertaken a makeover and you will now find key information including our SEN Report, SEN Policy, What to do if you have concerns about your child, What support is available at BHPS, and an Intervention Menu under the Inclusion and Wellbeing tab under About Us. You will also find descriptions about specifically developed areas to support our children with special educational needs plus the wellbeing needs of all our children and an introduction to SEN.

In addition, we have developed a padlet to share information regarding different SEN and Wellbeing needs, family support and advice, ways to support your child and key links to the Local Authority Local offer. You can find the link to our padlet under the Inclusion and Wellbeing tab or via <https://padlet.com/klawrence82/wmurbgg4yk14lf1a>

In order to provide our parents and carers with information about the provisions, interventions and support in place for their children we have invested in Edukey - a software package for parents and carers to access key information such as learning plans, interventions and provisions, and pupil passports. If your child is on our SEN register with a learning plan, you will receive login details to access this service sent home via your child's class teacher today.

Please continue to look out for editions of our SEN bulletin, 'Same but Different'. Previous editions can be found on the Same but Different padlet <https://padlet.com/klawrence82/wmurbgg4yk14lf1a> or via the website.

If you have concerns about your child, would like support as a family, or more information, please remember that you can contact either myself, Mrs Sargeant or Mrs Helps via email, through the school office, or by following: <https://www.bigginhillprimary.com/inclusion-wellbeing> for more information. You can also find our 'Inclusion and Wellbeing One Stop Guide' in the main office which will give you an overview of Inclusion and Wellbeing.

Yours sincerely,

Kate Lawrence
