26th February 2021

Dear Children,

I wanted to write to you because as you may know, schools are reopening to all children on 8th March. Some of you have been learning at home and some of you have been learning here in school - whichever has been the case for you - we know that it hasn't been easy!

We thought that we had better remind you all that you are:

B rilliant

H ardworking

P ositive - even when things have been very tricky

S upercalifragilisticexpialidocious!!!

We have missed those of you who have been learning at home so much and we know that those of you who have been at school have missed your friends a lot. We also know that some of you will be feeling worried about coming back to school and we wanted to reassure you that everything will be alright; we will be here to ease you back into school life gently and we will always be here to talk to and to support you if you feel a bit wobbly or unsure.

We know that some of you might feel a bit "out of practice" in terms of school life and so here are some top tips that you can work on with your families over the next week, to help you to feel ready to come back to school:

- 1) Try to get back into a good bedtime and morning routine.
- 2) Try to eat at the same times that you would normally eat when you are at school - this will help to stop tummy rumbles when you return!
- 3) Join your live lessons next week, if you aren't doing this already, as this will help you to feel ready to come back.
- 4) Use Mrs Lawrence and Mrs Sargeant's pack of resources (we have emailed this to your parents and carers) to help prepare yourselves to come back to school. There are some lovely activities that you might enjoy in this pack.

The only thing left to say is that we cannot wait to see you on the 8th and we are really looking forward to our World Book Day Dress Up Party Day on 12th March too. You see? Already so much to look forward to!

See you on 8th March lovely people!
